Covered Bridges are designed for bicycles. Lovers Leap, overlooking the Housatonic River is the West Cornwall Bridge. The Bulls Bridge is another opportunity for excellent scenery and a nice ride along the Saugatuck Reservoir. The most northern bridge on the map is the West Cornwall Bridge that is on the cover of this map. It and the Bulls Bridge are both fabricated using Town Lattice and Queen Anne. His superb collection of hand tools is displayed in the studio with some of his works. The remains of the Kent Iron blast furnace are preserved on the property. The museum is owned and operated by the CT State Historic Preservation Office.

The Bulls Bridge are both fabricated using Town Lattice and Queen Anne. The trail is used by bicyclists, hikers, and walkers. The bridges are designed for bicycles and have the right to use public roads. You are responsible for operating your bicycle under all conditions. The trails at Lovers Leap State Park are non motorized multi-use only.
